New Websites are Active!

Our websites at www.protect-your-wealth and www.cal-elder-lawyer are now active. Soon to come will be our tax website at www.fight-the-taxman.com. While parts of the websites are still under construction, you can now find information about me and my staff and what areas of law my office specializes in. You will also find copies of past client newsletters, as well as copies of articles I have written for various publications. Our estate planning website will have estate tax and probate fee calculators and using a function on our elder law website you will be able to get information on nursing homes in your area.

You will also be able to order one or more of our free informational brochures, see a schedule of my upcoming seminars and speaking engagements and make reservations to attend a seminar, request an appointment or ask a question.

More useful information is constantly being added, so check out our websites on a periodic basis over the next year.

House Passes Estate Tax Repeal!

By a vote of 272 to 162, the House of Representatives approved a bill to permanently repeal the estate tax starting in 2010. The bill would cost the federal government $290 billion in revenue over ten years.

A similar bill in the Senate has lost its momentum and it now looks as though the Republicans will be unable to must the required sixty votes to pass the bill. Many Senators are reluctant to repeal the estate tax with the current record budget deficits and pending problems with Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid. Senate Finance Chair Chuck Grassley (Rep. – Iowa) has authorized Jon Kyl (Rep – Ariz.) to take the lead in negotiation with the Democrats for a compromise bill.

In the House, the Democrats had offered a proposal to raise the amount that can be passed free of federal estate tax to $3 million in 2006, with a further increase to $3.5 million in 2009. The proposal was rejected by a vote of 194 to 238. It now appears that certain key House Republicans are softening their stance and it is more likely that some sort of compromise may be reached. An Urban Institute – Brookings Institution Tax Policy Center analysis found that the $3.5 million exclusion amount would exempt approximately 99.7% of all estates from taxation.

We will keep our eyes and ears open and let you know of any developments as they arise.
